

High Performance Hitting Clinic for Coaches
Sunday, March 28th
Saskatoon Field House

Sask Baseball will be hosting a hitting clinic for coaches who are coaching at the bantam and midget level. This clinic will be facilitated by Dave Robb formerly of Mesa, Arizona. Dave Robb is a former coach in the Oakland A's system and also contributed to Canada's National team as hitting coach.

This clinic will feature hitting drills and techniques for coaches who are coaching at the bantam and midget level. There will also be a practical element to the clinic as coaches will be able to try the drills in the batting cage at the Saskatoon Field House.

Cost: $35 per coach – cheques can be made payable to Sask Baseball Association.

How to Register: Please contact Sask Baseball's High Performance Director Greg Brons at gbrons@sasktel.net

Date: Sunday, March 28th – 5:30 – 8:30 PM

What to Bring: Bring suitable workout attire, baseball bat, and a pen and notebook.

Background on our learning facilitator Dave Robb:

Dave Robb is originally from Mesa, Arizona. He brings 36 years of coaching experience and in particular has worked with hitters at the college, professional and international levels. He was an assistant coach with Team Canada, in the Oakland A's system, and played as a player at Cal-State Fullerton. Dave also coached the Calgary Dawgs of the WMBL to a championship in 2004. With 7 consecutive playoff wins during the 2004 season his team won the WMBL Championship. In recognition of his outstanding effort, Coach Robb was named the WMBL "Coach of the Year". Currently Dave works closely with the Okotoks Dawgs and Okotoks Baseball Academy.
